

Florida WIC Client Notice January 3, 2024: Voluntary Recall of Nutramigen with Probiotic LGG Powder Infant Formula Specific Lots of 12.6 oz and 19.8 oz cans

Summary: Reckitt/Mead Johnson announced on December 30, 2023 that out of an abundance of caution it has chosen to voluntarily recall select batches of Nutramigen LGG powder, due to a remote possibility of cross-contamination with Cronobacter sakazakii in product sampled outside the U.S.

What to do:

1. Check the can(s) to identify whether the product is affected. Here is a table with the affected Lot Codes and “Use By” dates, which can be found on the bottom of the package.

Regulatory Batch Code	Can UPC/SKU	Description	Expiry/Use By

ZL3FXJ	300871239418	NUTRAM PROBIOTIC LGG PWD 12.6OZ(6CAN) US	1 Jan 2025

2. If you have a product that is included in the recall, do not use the product.
3. Clients with product containing the batch codes listed above should contact Reckitt/Mead Johnson at 866-534-9986 or consumer.relations@reckitt.com for return instructions and replacement product. Please contact your health care provider to prescribe a different formula temporarily. Contact your local WIC clinic to discuss changing your food package.
4. If your baby consumed formula from a recalled batch, and you suspect she or he is having an adverse reaction, immediately call your pediatrician. For all feeding-related questions or questions about your child’s health, contact a health care professional.
